Legislators talk funding and marijuana

Unique challenge of how to spend over $400 million

BY KINGSBURY JOURNAL STAFF

CARES Act funding and questions about marijuana dominated conversation at Saturday morning's Legislative Coffee in De Smet. The event at the Oxbow restaurant gave local legislators an opportunity to answer questions from constituents about proposed or pending legislation. In attendance were District 22 Legislators Senator David Wheeler, Representatives Roger Chase and Lynn Schneider. Moderating the session was former District 22 Senator Jim White who was term-limited from running for another term.

Twenty-two people attended the Coffee while many watched online, learning how this session of the South Dakota Legislature is progressing and which bills have been introduced.

Representative Chase opened the event by introducing the two new Legislators, Wheeler and Schneider.

"They are doing a good job!" Chase commented.

He reported that the 2021 Legislative Session is almost half-way through, so proposed bills must be worked through each Chamber by Friday with the cross over to the other legislative body taking place at that time.

"I did not realize how many issues there are out there, and how you need to be an expert on so many things," said Senator Wheeler.

He serves on both the Judiciary and Commerce and Energy Committees and See LEGISLATORS, page 2

COUNTY COMMISSION

Opening courthouse windows for new bids

BY MIKE SIEFKER
Kingsbury Journal

Tuesday, the Kingsbury County commissioners met to tackle their latest agenda. While it was bitterly cold outside, commissioners assembled inside the warm County Courthouse in person and via Zoom to begin their work.

Commissioners approved to advertise for bids on the window replacements for the courthouse building. The county has been working on replacing the windows since 2019. Commissioners had previously put the window replacements out for bids, with House of Glass being chosen for the replacement job. However, once they were tasked with the window replacements, it was reported they had difficulty with their supplier and manufacturing the custom windows due to COVID-19 complications.

Work was supposed to have been completed on the windows by July 31, 2020. House of Glass asked for an extension until September, but no work has even been started on the project. With no progress being made on the courthouse improvements, the commissioners voted to open a new bidding process on the windows. Bids will be opened on March 16 with a completion date set at six and a half months from bid opening. This should have the windows replaced in time for next winter. There was some discussion on imposing a penalty for not completing the replacement in the time provided, but commissioners decided against the penalty.

Spirit Lake Township submitted a bill to the county for two culverts that were replaced along the Big Ditch project. The bill for the two culverts came to $22,056.91. The total was over the amount budgeted for, so commissioners passed resolution 2021-06 that allowed them to amend that budget and make the payment. This asked for communication from the constituents. He asked that all sending emails include that you're in District 22.

LEGISLATORS: Debating homeschooling

Representative Schneider thanked everyone voting for him and said this year's Legislature has the unique challenge of how to spend over $400 million in one-time money that's available.

CARES MONEY, HOMESCHOOLING AND HEALTH CARE

Local resident Carmen Dannenbring began the questioning, asking where the excess funds came from that Governor Noem talked about in her State of the State Address, and, if it is CARES Act money, why it has not been given to local businesses. Representative Chase replied that sales tax revenues are ahead of projections for the state and unsure why the local business have not received the funds if they had applied and fit the criteria. The Small Business Administration leads that process, so they should be contacted by the business owner.

De Smet Superintendent Abi VanRegenmorter referred to SB177 regarding the homeschool program. She recognized the families that are doing homeschool well but expressed concerns with the bill that would take away local control in determining homeschool participation and concerned with families trying to escape truancy issues.

Sen. Wheeler answered that many homeschool families do great, and if all parents did the same, we would not need schools. He is not in favor of the bill because people with neglected children abuse the program to avoid detection, and we should not remove the few accountability standards in place.

Rep. Chase said that SB177 has brought more people to Pierre than any other issue. The homeschool community, which is the third largest school district in the state, has brought buses of people to lobby for the bill. He also felt this bill goes too far.

Rep. Schneider commented that he felt this bill involves a fairness issue, and that the homeschoolers have a good situation, so why ask for more.

Charles Johnson commented on SB167 regarding appropriations to regional nursing homes. He felt a bill should be passed for Medicare reimbursement as many nursing homes are having to close, and they should be applying this surplus of cash to Medicaid expansion addressing the hardships present now for many families.

Sen. Wheeler replied that SB167 is up for review in the Health Committee this week, and that Medicaid expansion would not qualify for these one-time excess funds as we cannot obligate funds for the future.

Sen. Wheeler responded to a question from Shelley Strande asking the status of HB 1063 providing mental health insurance for volunteer members of first responder organizations. He replied that it passed the House Commerce and Energy Committee with a vote of 13 to 0 and has now gone on to the House Appropriations Committee.

MARIJUANA MATTERS

The Legislators were then asked about their opinions on amendments approved on a statewide ballot measure on Nov. 3 allowing for legalization of medical and recreational marijuana. As dictated in the ballot measures, legalization of both types of marijuana would take place on July 1. But in the interim, lawmakers must come up with the rules.

Sen. Wheeler spoke first saying that a Circuit Court Judge has overturned the bill, and it will now go to the Supreme Court. Governor Noem stated she will not sign the bill, but there is support among the Legislators for it. Many do not believe in it but feel they should honor it when it was voted in by the people. He anticipated that it will be two years before recreational marijuana will be available.

Regarding IM26 and the medical marijuana current statute, Wheeler stated the process is in place to regulate it more, but the Dept. of Health is busy with pandemic issues, so more time needs to be given to them to determine additional regulations.

Rep. Schneider stated that even though this recreational marijuana issue will go to the Supreme Court, there are many other bills to consider such as the law to prohibit smoking marijuana while driving. He is not in favor of the bills personally but will vote to go there if there are not too many examples of concerns.

Rep. Chase said that with the majority of the people voting for legalizing marijuana, we need to make it happen, but we need to get it right.

Sheriff Strande stated that we need more restrictions on marijuana usage before it is put into place. He shared that he has visited with people from Colorado who have related that they have not seen any dollars from legalizing marijuana in their state, but it has created more problems in schools.

OTHER ISSUES

Dannenbring questioned why Attorney General Ravensborg is not in jail after he was involved in a fatal crash in September. Sen. Wheeler said that the matter is in the hands of Hyde County State's Attorney Office and the Dept. of Transportation. He said he cannot explain why it has taken this long to make any charges, but he knows that they want to be right about it. The difference here is negligent or reckless driving, and they need to follow the due process.

De Smet Development Director Rita Anderson asked the Legislators to pay attention to SB155 regarding a $5 million emergency bill to grant funds to Rapid City and Sioux Falls for revolving loan funds to be given for housing. She stated that she's had conversations with the Economic Development Directors in these cities who have agreed to include other communities with a population of over 5,000. She stated that she is in favor of this bill but hopes that the Legislators realize how critical housing is to the future of all of the communities, and that they vote for funding for housing in all rural communities in the future.

Anderson also recommended HB1040 be amended to include funding for 'new' meat processing businesses as well as existing. The bill allocates $5 million from general funds to a grant program to support small, local meat processors to address gaps exposed by the pandemic in the state's meat processing chain and locker capacities.

Jim White spoke to the purpose of the proposed $19 million DEX (Dakota Events Complex) facility to replace the Beef Complex at the South Dakota State Fairgrounds. Governor Noem has asked the Legislature for $12 million from the general fund to pay for the largest chunk of the project. About $3 million is covered by an insurance check, and fundraising efforts are in place to bring in at least $4 million.

Murder mystery at the Valentine's Day banquet

IMPACTED CLASSES LEADERSHIP TEAM

THE IMPACTED CLASS expanded their theatrical horizons this week and joined in the fun as they and other audience members became 'employees' of the Bleeding Heart Candy Company at an annual company Valentine's Day banquet.

The employees soon learned that the company owner, Art Hart, had been murdered, and the case needed to be solved.

The suspects were Hart's self-centered millennial daughter, Candi Hart (Haley Salem), Cass Mone'y (Tristin Gruenhagen), the company's drunk CFO with sticky fingers and Jerry Atric (Larry Janish), the Chief Information Officer who failed high school math and clearly had no idea what he was doing in his tech job.

Another suspect was Fran Tic, the Chief Compliance Officer (Kristy Hubbard), who was using her job as a stepping stone to her dream job with the PEEPS Candy Company. Fran Tic had recently discovered that deceased owner Hart had been dumping hazardous waste into the local water system. A final suspect was Hugh Jass (Leo Jensen), the company's Chief Operating Officer who was having an affair with a reporter from the Kingsbury Journal.

All suspects clearly had motive in the intricate and interwoven plot.

Bleeding Hearts Mystery Theater cast included Tristin Gruenhagen (Cass Mone'y), Leo Jensen (Hugh Jass), Haley Salem (Candi Hart), Larry Janish (Jerry Atric) and Kristy Hubbard (Fran Tic). (Submitted photo)

The IMPACTED 'employees' worked diligently during cocktails and a catered meal to determine whom they thought murdered company owner Hart and what weapon had been used.

At the end of the evening, 'employees' Sam Gigov and Loren Eitrem were the only two that said, "Fran Tic did it; she poisoned his drinking water!"

The Bleeding Hearts Murder Mystery Dinner Theater script was written and directed by Haley (Hubbard) Salem.

NEW PROGRAMS AT LAKE AREA TECH & OLD BEAUTY AT GOSS OPERA HOUSE

Lake Area Technical College is not only growing in enrollment but also growing in the number of programs offered. A beautiful new wing has expanded their medical career programs where students work in state-of-the-art facilities. They learn on mannequins that can do everything from birth babies to yell ouch, bleed or burp. Seven separate medical programs include instruction and study involving cadavers.

Other areas are expanding as well – diesel technology is doubling the size of their facilities. Piloting and maintaining drones are new programs starting in 2022 in the aviation program.

"I was amazed to learn that Mount Marty is so tightly aligned with Lake Area," said Roxy Jensen. "Mount Marty has their office and classes right on this same campus, so students who double up can graduate with 4-year degrees in two years."

Ninety-nine percent of the Lake Area students find employment upon graduation, and 84% stay in South Dakota. There are 30 programs and 2608 students presently enrolled. All students have access to over $400,000 in scholarships.

Maverick's Steak House, with a very interesting menu, was next on the tour.

"I want to come back," commented Marilyn Skyberg. "They have one item where I can pick my own steak, and then they bring it to the table on a hot lava stone. I can finish it however I want. That sounds unique and fun for our next road trip."

The group also toured the historic Goss Opera House. The building had started to fall apart and was in complete disrepair. During repairs, one room was left as it was so everyone could appreciate what it took to bring the entire building back to its 1889 magnificence. Many commented that they would like to come back for one of the concerts or plays that are scheduled for this upcoming year.

COMING UP

The Gentle Yoga and To Be Fit classes will finish up their final IMPACTED week. The Rattle, Farkle and Mexican Train Domino players have their last official session on Monday, too.

"Although the IMPACTED group is done this week, they can extend game day," said Event Center Director Kristy Hubbard. "So, if people want to continue, we can schedule some dates."

Wednesday marks the last IMPACTED 2021 tour which starts at the newly opened Wilbert's Alehouse in Brookings, followed by tours to the SD Art Museum and State Agricultural Heritage Museum.

COMMISSION: Fiber gets right-of-way

money was taken from the Big Ditch #4 funds. This account is money already collected from the residents that were part of the Big Ditch project and not from anyone else in the county.

Highway Superintendent Dave Sorensen reported to commissioners that his department has been busy with the weather and no major issues to report. He also reported that his emergency relief from FEMA and other organizations is coming in.

Valley FiberCom is working on laying more lines throughout the county in the rights-of-way. They will be adhering to the lines being buried at least forty-two inches and as close to the fence-lines as possible. Trenching is not allowed across the roads; instead, they will bore underneath the roads.

This will allow for a smoother drive on the county roads. Commissioners approved the use of their right-of-way.

Sorensen reported that he would like to replace the department's 1980 rubber tire roller. He has found a pneumatic roller previously used by a paving company in Huron. The unit is a 2006 model and has less than one thousand hours on it and is currently available for $19,000 or possibly less. Commissioners approved this purchase and approved moving the older roller into surplus.

Commissioners also approved Sorensen attending a state highway convention in Deadwood, March 23-25.

Commissioners also met in executive session to evaluate several of the county employees.

Legislative Update

Dakota Events Complex will deliver short- and long-term value

THIS WEEK WAS an especially exciting one for District 22 and the South Dakota State Fair. A group of Huron area citizens came to Pierre and provided materials that demonstrate a strong case for the DEX and also served a delicious lunch to all the legislators. Many great conversations were held one on one and in small groups with legislators to explain how important this project is for the state of South Dakota, including young people in 4-H and FFA and of course our beef cattle economy and our rodeo industry. I want to thank State Fair Manager Peggy Besch and former Senator Jim White for all their hard work to lead this effort, including the private fundraising to meet the goal of $4 million dollars toward the $19 million project.

REP. LYNN SCHNEIDER

was made this week to help legislators realize the value of this project and helping them to know this will be funds well invested into the near term, as well as long term future of the State Fair and the state of South Dakota.

Overall, the past two weeks have been a very busy time dealing with many bills that attempt to address

The legislature needs to approve the $12 million portion of state funds, and that requires a two-thirds approval because it involves public funds. I believe good progress a wide range of matters. I am impressed with the 105 legislators as a group who really do have the best interests of their respective constituents in their local districts in mind, as well as the complete state of South Dakota. We really do have a citizen's legislature in this state, and they take their responsibilities as a legislator very seriously. Sometimes on some issues, it is tougher to reach a meeting of the minds and decide what gets approved or disapproved. I have witnessed many very constructive discussions and debate in committees and on the floor of the House.

Again, this really is a unique year with the COVID challenge along with the legislature having by far a record amount of one-time funds to figure out the best way to utilize. In fact, this week the Governor reported that these funds are now approaching $400 million due to the CARES Act, and the strong performance of the South Dakota economy with unemployment now being even lower than before the pandemic began.

So, one would think this should be an easy year with so much money to work with, however it seems there will never be money to cover all the ideas for spending. Thanks again for this privilege to serve District 22.

Obituary

Author Dorris

It is with a heavy heart that we announce the passing of Author Dorris. Author died at his home of natural causes at the age of 91 1/2, on Jan. 27. He was born July 27 in 1929, to Albert and Althea Dorris in Springfield, Tenn.

At the age of 17, he joined the Navy, and, upon discharge on Oct. 2, 1950, stayed on the West Coast, as he put it, "too broke to go home."

After several jobs around the Bay Area, he found himself in Redding, Calif., starting his own company, Apex Fencing Inc., as a highway safety and guardrail company. Starting out very small, he grew it into the best and largest on the West Coast. While in Redding, his favorite pastimes were bass fishing and house boating on Shasta Lake. His favorite form of traveling was his motor home.

Enjoying semi-retirement in 1989, he moved with his family to De Smet, S.D. He thoroughly enjoyed his time and friendship forged over fishing, hunting, and especially playing rattle with Dale, Jim and Bob.

Sharing in his joy of life was his wife, Bonnie; son, Author Dustin; two stepchildren, Scott (Wendy) Salter of Benson, Ariz. and Kyle (Amy) Salter of De Smet, S.D.; grandchildren, David Parmer of Anderson, Calif., Micah (Ashli) Parmer of Cottonwood, Calif., and Rocklin and Reece Salter of De Smet, S.D.

THIS WEEK IS Ash Wednesday, the beginning of the season of Lent. Lent is a season in which the people of God prepare for the day of Resurrection. Lent lasts for 40 days and nights, minus Sundays, beginning on Ash Wednesday and concluding with the Easter Vigil. The Easter Vigil is the Saturday before Easter. When translated, Lent literally means spring.

Many denominations will hold a solemn worship service on Ash Wednesday to focus on the beginning of this very holy time. Typically, many will celebrate the Sacrament of Holy Communion and incorporate the ancient practice of the "Imposition of Ashes." Words from Genesis 3:19 are spoken as the sign of the cross is imposed upon the forehead reminding us that "Remember that you are dust, and to dust you shall return." The ashes used for this sacred and meaningful event are created from the previous year's dried palm branches from Palm Sunday. They are burned, and the ashes are combined with olive oil to be used.

Many people will choose to take away something from their everyday life that they enjoy as part of their personal faith enrichment program. (I am not speaking against this practice at all, for many it is very meaningful and important.) Some of us cannot function properly without copious amounts of coffee every day. If this describes your situation, giving up coffee may not be beneficial to the Body of Christ.

What if rather than taking something away, we all choose to add behaviors that lift up and bless those around us? What if we make a conscious effort to smile even when we feel like frowning or cursing? What if we help someone who doesn't expect to be helped? What if we offer a note or text of encouragement to someone we have lost touch with, even before the pandemic? Make a deliberate effort to connect with people that we know have been isolated. Offer new and creative ways to bless others even when we are unable to interact in close proximity. You may have an idea that none of us have thought of.

What if we add praying for the millions of Christians suffering under persecution in various Muslim and Communist countries around the world? Pray for those who have recently lost their source of income due to the persistence of the pandemic and executive orders canceling thousands of jobs. Pray for every family who has lost a loved one during the past year. Pray that they will find peace during the coming months. Pray that God will send you to bring peace to those around you.

If your car started today in this -25 degree weather, say a prayer of thanksgiving for that! Look around to see if you can help someone whose car didn't start. If you live in a warm house, invite someone over who struggles to keep warm on these cold days. If you have been blessed with abundance, offer to share with others who could use some help. Remember to "Do unto the least of these" as if you were doing unto Jesus himself. I promise you that you will be blessed even more than those you are blessing.

Always remember that good works are not the mechanism of your salvation. They are the response of gratitude motivated by true faith that we offer to God for all that we have been blessed with. What if you are the instrument that God is using to answer someone else's prayers? You have been blessed to be a blessing. Perhaps you, like Esther, were born for a time such as this. May God bless you during this Season of Lent.

The genuine original all-purpose farm ‘wagon’

“DO WHAT YOU CAN, with what you have, where you are.” Theodore Roosevelt appealed to Americans to “make do” with what they had at the time. Throughout our country’s history, people have met the challenge, none more admirably than the farmer. And, the machine that takes first prize for usefulness? The one and only genuine original manure spreader!

Also called a muck spreader, honey wagon, and a few other names that cannot be printed in this column, the manure spreader’s purpose was to cast the natural fertilizer produced by farm animals onto fields to enrich the soil. Our machine was green with wooden sides and bottom, one of the first models made to be pulled by a tractor rather than a team of horses. Two conveyor chains ran along the bottom of the wagon toward the rear where an auger and beaters were attached. Levers that turned the chain movement on and off extended to the arm’s reach of the tractor driver. The moving mechanisms were powered by the two wheels on the spreader. The wheels turned, moving the chain, pushing the contents through the beaters and throwing the organic matter up in the air and out the back and sides.

On our farm the implement proved practical for many tasks and was often used to carry other materials. Amazingly, every spring rocks pushed their way out of the South Dakota dirt, and farming rocks is not a practical practice, so my brother and I “picked rock.” Delmer hooked the manure spreader onto the John Deere 520, and we rode out to the field, parking next to the biggest boulders. The wagon was not very high, so we hefted the heavy hunks into the wagon and hauled them to the rock pile at the end of the field.

Hay rack not handy? No problem. Use the manure spreader! Delmer and Don could pack in 15 or 20 square hay bales if they leaned a few back over the beaters. The cattle in the barnyard welcomed the sweet-smelling feed.

The wondrous wagon also proved perfect for fence repair days. The guys loaded up posts, diggers, rolls of wire and staples and maneuvered in right next to the fence in need of fixing. The tractor and spreader combination comprised the ATV of the twentieth century.

NOOKS AND CRANNIES

Dad and Mom told stories of an extremely unconventional use of the manure spreader, the wedding chivaree. The chivaree was an old tradition of harassing the newly-married couple as much as possible on their wedding day. Long ago, someone got the brilliant idea of stealing the bride and hauling her around town in the manure spreader, and it stuck. The bride endured the ride until the bandits returned the relieved groom’s honey to him. This was obviously the origin of the alias, “honey wagon.” (Now we know the rest of the story.)

In those days, most farms had livestock, and when you have livestock, manure happens. Our green refuse-hauling machine often fulfilled its intended purpose, spreading the nitrogen-rich compost onto bare fields. However, emptying the old wagon was the easy part. Filling it was a sweaty, smelly job. The men in our family usually hefted the heavy forks and shovels of straw-laden waste and tossed them into the spreader, which was parked just outside the chicken coop or hog house doors. The pungent aroma of the ammonia-rich matter compelled the guys to tug the red bandanas out of their back pockets and tie them over their nose and mouth. The red fabric was seldom used for anything other than a handkerchief. Only in dire circumstances (shoveling out a dusty grain bin, dragging a field on a windy day or an occasional bank robbery) was the red fabric used for a face mask. Forking feces was serious business!

Once the spreader was full, the tractor towed it to the waiting field where it did its duty. The tractor driver reached back and engaged the levers that moved the cargo and the beaters that shot it up and out of the wagon. This distribution of compost demonstrated the most valuable and practical use of the manure spreader, the education of the young man driving the tractor.

Meteorology, physics and driver education combined into an unforgettable lesson. Remember there were no tractor cabs then. The tractor driver was exposed to the elements, whatever elements that were thrown at him at the time. The spreader was wheel-driven. The faster the wheels turned, the farther, faster and higher the dung flew. Quite quickly, the farmer learned that wind direction, or rather driving direction, was critical. (This is also why farmers wore caps.)

When I grew up there were no signs flashing as you drove under bridges on the interstate: “Watch your speed,” or “Speed kills,” or “Drive, don’t fly.” They weren’t needed. What better way to educate a teenage driver than a wheel-driven manure spreader? Driving too fast? A shower of sludge rained down his neck. Cut a quick corner? Fast-flying fertilizer might become face paint. The all-purpose manure spreader, along with its other practical uses, effectively taught safe driving techniques.

President Roosevelt would have stood behind our farming practices. He would have stood behind our creative uses of the wonderful sludg-slinging machine, but I am quite certain that the wise man never, ever stood behind a manure spreader.

And that’s no compost!

CASTLEROCK

Warm memories served with slow cooker hot chocolate

HOME GROWN

AMY HALVERSON

WITH THE BITTERLY COLD temperatures we've been having, I think we are all looking for ways to stay warm. For me, it's normally a big pot of coffee with lots of sugar and creamer. When I was a kid, it was always a warm cup of hot chocolate.

Whenever I think of hot chocolate, I think of my grandma and having hot chocolate at her house. One of my favorite childhood memories is when I used to get to stay at my grandparents' farm house for a few days each summer.

It was always a special treat when Grandma offered to make hot chocolate. It wasn't that she made some special hot chocolate recipe or we needed it in the summer to stay warm, but it was always nice sitting around the table with my grandparents and enjoying the special treat together.

My grandma would heat up a mug full of milk in the microwave for each of us. Then, she would open a can of Hershey's syrup and place it on the table.

The best part was that Grandma always served hot chocolate with cookies. She always had cookies on hand whether in the cookie jar or in the freezer. The cookies she pulled from the freezer earlier in the morning that were still sometimes cold were the best for dipping into the hot chocolate. You could dip them in longer to soak up the warm hot chocolate without them disintegrating into the cup.

My favorite cookies to dip in my hot chocolate were her gingersnaps and snickerdoodles. They always tasted good dipped and made the hot chocolate even better.

This week I'm sharing a recipe for hot chocolate that you can make in your slow cooker. Add some extras in to make it your own! I would suggest serving it with a plate of gingersnaps or other cookies for dipping. Enjoy!

Hot chocolate tips:

- If you don't have half & half, you can substitute whole milk, but the half & half makes the hot chocolate a better consistency.
- Spice it up by sprinkling in cinnamon, pumpkin pie spice, ginger, nutmeg, anise or cayenne pepper.
- For adults who want to add a little kick, mix in Kahlua, bourbon, rum, brandy, Bailey's or peppermint schnapps.

Need some tips and tricks? Submit your questions to amy@kingsburyjournal.com

Slow Cooker Hot Chocolate

- 2 cups half & half
- 14-ounce can sweetened condensed milk
- 12-ounce bag of semi-sweet chocolate chips
- ¼ cup cocoa powder
- 6 cups milk
- 2 teaspoons vanilla)

Combine all ingredients except for the chocolate chips in a slow cooker and whisk until well mixed. Add in chocolate chips and cook on high for two hours. Stir every 30 minutes to break up chocolate chips. Reduce to warm or low after two hours to keep hot. Stir and serve while warm.

Bank begins in new century, ends after 1929 crash

BY ROSE GROTHE

There was no church service on Sunday, mostly because of the cold. The Rev. Richert of Brookings was to be the speaker as well as installing the newly re-elected officers.

Those attending the 'visitation' for Larry Martens on Saturday, the 13th came from Sioux Falls, Valley Springs, Watertown, Brookings, Egan, Gary, Aberdeen, De Smet, Osceola and Bancroft.

Not much news around the town this time because of the extreme cold, but we need to be very thankful that the wind wasn't blowing like it could be. The shining sun coming in the windows really helped to warm the room, as well as making it seem warmer.

BANK HISTORY

In 1900: Wesley M. Mason came to town and built the present bank and a house for the bankers directly south of Zell Brothers Implement. The bank continued to be used until the dry years of 1931 when it closed along with many banks in the area. Anyone having money in the bank at that time could retain a certain amount by putting in a claim.

The capital of the bank was at it's highest in 1909, having in it some $50,000. After Mr. Mason left as president in 1910, Spence Eggleston went in until 1914. Dan Thompson also served as president of the bank, a short time in 1909 and again in the spring of 1913.

It was in 1914 when the first tragedy struck the bank. Mr. Severson came in as director and took all the bad notes out of the Watertown bank (which were hard to collect from people) and put them into the local bank, and took the good notes from here and put them into the Bryant bank. It was due to this that the bank went broke. W. J. Agnew, who time and again would put the town back on its feet, took over as director in 1915 and worked the assets back up to $10,000.

H. M. Best became the next director in 1917 until 1929, when the capital stood at $30,000. It was at this time the market crash hit, and W. H. Boorman, who was the final director for only a short time, lost his life. With his life, the life of the bank also went.

The building stood vacant until Ruth and Bill Austin made it a restaurant in 1935-36. On Sept. 26, 1937, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hageman purchased the building and used it for a home and restaurant until 1969. It now serves as a home for Jack Tobey.

In the April 25, 1912 issue of the Register concerning the bank when it tells us: Spence Eggleston has planted a number of fine trees around the bank building, and it goes without saying that the trees will receive all the attention due them. In a few years, the bank corner will be a thing of beauty and a joy forever. From Bancroft, South Dakota 1889-1971 by Gary Lee Jerke. The teller's window from the bank is in the museum in Watertown.

Wash day back in the days

BY ILLDENA POPPEN

Brr, but it's cold. At least the wind isn't blowing at this writing. A temperature of 25° below on Sunday.

Spirit Lake Presbyterian Church will hold Ash Wednesday services at 7 p.m. Feb. 17. There will be no confirmation class. Adult Sunday school is at 9:30 a.m. each Sunday and services are at 10:30 a.m. in the church, as well as being broadcast over 88.1 F.M. radio and livestreamed on Facebook. The Rev. Dick Poppen speaks each Sunday at 9:30 a.m. over KWAT radio.

LAUNDRY DAY

Laundry day when I was a bride in 1950 was quite an experience. We lived on the farm, and there was no rural water. So, water had to be hauled by pails then put into a boiler and placed on a cookstove to heat. My small propane stove was not sufficient. When the water got hot, it was dumped into the washing machine with P&G or Lava laundry soap cut into small pieces. Rinse water was also hauled and poured into a tub with a little bluing to keep whites, white. The whole wash was made by this single dosage, and, when finished, hauled out again in buckets.

An outdoor clothesline was used for drying, even in the winter. In the winter, the laundry would freeze stiff and then was brought inside and hung on rope lines strung inside the house. The small items were placed on a wooden rack and over the floor furnace to dry.

When we started a family, there were always cloth diapers to wash, a big chore.

In 1975, my husband and I built a new house. Along with that came an automatic washer and dryer. The invention of the automatic washer and dryer, for me, gave me the best appliance I have. And as I use them, I remember the "good ole days?"

1938: Hoops put up in the hall

BY MARLIN CLENDENING

Word has been received of the passing of Phil Heavirland on Dec. 19, 2020, formerly of Esmond. He was the youngest son of Asa and Lydia Heavirland. The Heavirland family bought and ran the garage in Esmond from 1938 until the late 40's. Phil attended school in Esmond, then high school in Carthage. When his folks sold the garage in Esmond, they moved to Huron, and Phil graduated from Huron High School. After graduation he served in the Marines and lived the rest of his life in California. He was the younger brother of Irene (Heavirland) Aughenbaugh married to Hiland Aughenbaugh, who also both grew up in the Esmond area.

No church services were held in Esmond this past Sunday due to the cold.

Michelle Bornitz and children were in Sioux Falls this past weekend celebrating her mother's birthday.

HISTORY NOTE

1938 - The Clendening and Frost ice houses were filled. The county truck brought apples, oranges, rice and potatoes for distribution. Dale Hoeye took over the pool hall for Pooley for the rest of the winter.

Screens were put over the windows in the hall, and hoops were put up so that the school could play basketball games there. (the out of bounds lines are still visible).

Dances were popular during February with Bane Nelson, Edwin Anderson and Les Clendening each sponsoring one.

Winning the declam that spring was Lois Timm, grades 1-2; Dick Wiles, grades 3-4; Lavonne Nelson, grades 5-6 and Maxine Nelson in grades 7-8.

During March, Mr. Newman of Canova took over the pool hall from Roy Pooley. A hearing was held about closing the depot. Lohr was leaving. Louie Engel trucked Lohr's belongings out west and hauled those belonging to A.P. Heavirland, of Belle Fourche, back to Esmond. Heavirland had purchased the Lohr Garage.

Students see local government in action

BY KRISTI CURD
Kingsbury Journal

The Lake Preston social studies teacher, Jordan Solberg, asks his senior American government students to attend a school board meeting with him each year as an opportunity not only to gain extra credit but also to appreciate the decision-making process of the school. Seven senior government students were in attendance for the February school board meeting, along with Solberg and four other teachers.

Recently, the need for civics education has been topic of discussion in Pierre, but Solberg has seen the importance of highlighting local government since he started teaching in Lake Preston.

"I try and take the senior class to one school board meeting every year," said Solberg. "I think it is a great opportunity for them to see and appreciate all the work that our administration does that they do not necessarily know about. It also is a great way for the seniors to connect with administration by discussing the meeting before and after."

Business Manager Kristi Curd reviewed the proposed agenda with the class prior to the meeting, and Superintendent Dana Felderman connected with the students afterward.

CITY COUNCIL

Grant can be used toward current project

BY KINGSBURY JOURNAL STAFF

The Lake Preston City Council met for their regularly scheduled meeting on Feb. 8, 2021, at City Hall at 7 p.m. New cameras allowed for better viewing of the meeting on Facebook Live. It is the hope of the council that more people will continue to tune in to meetings to keep apprised of city business.

Tammy Anderson of the Kingsbury Equalization Office presented numbers regarding growth in Lake Preston. Residential properties will see a 15 percent increase in values. Her office is currently reworking how commercial properties are assessed as well. Property owners who believe their property is valued incorrectly may file an appeal with the city in writing by March 11. Submissions by mail must be postmarked by March 11. These owners then must attend the special meeting on March 17 at 6 p.m. at City Hall.

Bert Bucholz of Clark County Riders made a $400 donation to the campground expansion project.

The council approved the liquor license/operating agreements with New Horizon Lounge, The Other Bar, Boomer's and The Bait Box. Missy Olson was present as a notary public to witness signatures.

Debra Miller gave the council the bi-annual report for the library. She reported that usage is approximately 25 percent what it was this time last year. She shared that the board is exploring how to safely open the library to patrons in the near future. A new website is in the works for the library as well. Miller reported that she is exploring how to safely implement a summer reading program for kids as well.

City employee Brian Zeeck reported that the lighted signs are now in place in order to be in compliance with recommendations for the insurance company. He is also getting bids for concrete work around the museum to combat flooding problems. Zeeck and Doug Bumann met with Banner Associates last week. They again reviewed which streets will be in phase 1. Property owners will be advised in writing if any part of the project will impact their boulevards. He is also looking into a program that would map water locators in town within 3 cm. City employees have struggled with locating some turn-offs due to inaccuracies in older maps. Preliminary reports suggest this would cost $2500-5000.

City finance officer Brenda Klug reported that she learned the city can use the previous grant award of $300,000 toward the current project. That grant had been designated to work on Park Avenue North, so Phase 1 will be amended to include Park Avenue north from Highway 14.

Klug presented new chair options for council members. There had been concern about the current chairs causing damage to the new flooring. The council voted to purchase new chairs. The current chairs will go to the development board room where there is carpet.

Klug shared some information that was passed on to her about grant opportunities for city beautification projects. These grants are matching dollars opportunities.

The current permit for the Restrictive Use Site will be amended to be able to accept additional items as previously discussed.

Klug reported that Rebecca Lolling of ELO conducted her audit. Her report will be forthcoming. Councilwoman Kristen Longville suggested perhaps Lolling's agency should be hired to do the audit of the fire department's accounts in the interest of ensuring an unbiased review. Councilwoman Donna Bumann agreed that would be a good idea but also suggested that the budget committee review spending to assess if and where any shortfalls in funding might lie.

In new business, the council voted to enter into a contract with Code Enforcement Specialists. This company will take over where David Miller left off in addressing nuisance properties in the city. The $1,500 payment previously paid in 2020 for Miller's services will be returned to the city.

An ad will be placed in the Kingsbury Journal asking for gravel bids to be opened during the regular city council meeting on March 8.

The council is still accepting applications for summer help.

Rick Olson asked permission to use the community room and to close Main Avenue for the car show July 17, 2021. The council will vote on the matter at a later date.

In council concerns, Longville shared that there has been some confusion about fees with the restructuring of the restrictive use site. There will be no charge for lawn debris and other burnables.

Mayor Wienk summarized it by explaining that what was free in the past will be free now with the exceptions of appliances. Longville also asked for a timeline of when upcoming projects can be expected to be completed. She expressed concern about some projects not being completed.

Councilwoman Bumann inquired as to the interest of beginning council meetings at 6 p.m. as many meetings run late into the night. The council agreed to look into this option. A citizen who had been watching online expressed concern that perhaps the earlier time would make it more difficult for some people to watch the meetings online.

Bumann also shared that she had the opportunity to observe a truck going down Park Avenue South. She had a conversation with the driver, who acknowledged that he knew the truck routes. He suggested that the truck route was in disrepair. Upon her return to town, Bumann took said truck route and found it to be in good condition. She expressed frustration that the new ordinance seems to be ignored. Councilman Brian Verhey suggested perhaps this should be opened to trucks once again. This suggestion was met with opposition by fellow councilmembers.

There was no need for executive session, and the meeting was adjourned.

LPHS SENIOR FEATURE: Madison Perkins

Written By: Carter Malone

The Blue & Gold's first senior feature is Madison Perkins. Madison is the daughter of Monty Perkins and Trina Williams. She has three sisters: Haylee, Savanna, and Cianna. She also has two brothers: Cody and Zack. During Madison's voyage at LPHS, she has been involved in countless activities including competitive cheer, basketball, track and field, sideline basketball cheer, All-School Musical, choir, show choir, band, marching band, FFA, and LYO. When Madison was asked to give five words that describe her, she provided the words hardworking, respectful, thoughtful, patient, and soft-spoken.

Mr. Schmidt was the teacher Madison named as her favorite, because he makes her laugh the most and he is so knowledgeable. She sucks up to him a little bit and says that it is hard not to be interested when he is teaching. And to no surprise, Mr. Schmidt also taught her favorite class, Advanced Biology. She said, "I found the class the most intriguing and I was better at it than most of my classes." But, when Madison was asked what teacher or staff member she would like to take with her after high school, she said Mrs. Erstad because "she is really smart in and out of school. She is also resourceful and would be able to teach me much more than academics." As for her favorite lunch, Madison LOVES when the cooks make Chicken Quesadillas, despite the amount of chicken we are served on a regular basis.

Her favorite activities that she has participated in throughout high school have been track and competitive cheer. "I love them both and the people on those teams only made it better. I made new friends and created great bonds with people I didn't think that I would." Sophomore year was the year that Madison said she enjoyed the most because it was the least stressful. After Madison leaves the halls of LPHS, she thinks she wants to be a pediatric nurse, but she is not 100% on that decision yet.

When Madison graduates, she would like to be remembered as more than another name on the wall. She would like to be remembered as someone who was friendly and also someone that you could approach easily. When asked to give her senior quote, Madison shared one from actress Sandra Bullock: "You have to dance a little bit before you step out into the world each day, because it changes the way you walk."

Season losses as season winds down

Before the weekend and intense cooldown, the Diver girls and boys basketball teams hosted the Arlington Cardinals last Thursday and Friday evenings. The Divers fell to the Cardinals, 51-73. The Lady Divers JV team also lost.

Leading scorers for Divers were Jasper Denison with 16, Carter Malone with 15, and Riley Casper with 8. Denison also led in rebounds with 7. Despite the score, both Malone and Jake Larsen worked defensively with 4 steals each. The team also blocked the ball twice throughout the game. The Divers were 44% from the free throw line, not shooting as well as they had hoped for the game. The boys will travel to Colman on Thursday to take on the C-E Hawks. First game will be the middle school starting at 5, followed by the JV and Varsity.

For the JV girls, Hadlee Holt led in scoring with 11 points, followed by Stella DeKnikker and Amelia Greene with 3 points each. The Lady Divers pulled down 20 rebounds as a team. The leading rebounders were Holt with 12 and Ava Malone with 6. Defensively, DeKnikker had 3 steals to Trinity Pirlet's 2, and Holt blocked the ball twice. The Lady Divers JV will finish their season with tournament play in Miller this Saturday.

IROQUOIS NEWS

1931: A drifter turned check artist?

February 16, 1911

A large number of people whose cisterns are dry are hoping for early spring rains.

Next Sunday services will be as usual, but at the evening service, it being the World's Temperance Sunday, Rev. Mueller will preach a temperance sermon at the service. Come and hear the discussion on that important question.

February 19, 1931

A young fellow who drifted into Iroquois last week and was evidently in need of pocket change, secured a blank Farmers and Merchants State Bank check, filled it out for $5, signed Charles Hanson's name to it and made a small purchase at Dickey's Pharmacy, securing $4.75 in change. Before the forgery was discovered, the check artist had disappeared.

The same delightful brand of weather with which we have been favored all winter continues to function without a break. Sunday was a mid-summer day with the thermometer registering 62 above. Fires were an unnecessary luxury, and outside wraps discarded. Two Yankton youths took advantage of South Dakota's winter climate by indulging in a Missouri River swim. February is fairly well along, and no snow or storms have yet put in an appearance.

February 20, 1941

For the present at least, Iroquois is without a resident doctor, as Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Hofer are moving to Howard, and the former is opening an office this week in that city. Dr. Hofer has served this community for almost four years, and local residents regret the removal of the Hofer family from this city.

The Iroquois Chiefs journeyed to Yale Tuesday night. The second team boys came home with a 21-15 victory, but the first string five didn't click and were forced to come home with the short end of 32-19 score. Dean Moeller was high point man on the second team, while Don Moeller, Charles Geyer and Dale Sergeant each were credited with six points in the first team contest. Bemis shoed up best for Yale with 12 points.

Recovered from COVID? Please give blood!

LifeServe Blood Center is holding a blood drive from 2-6 p.m. March 2 at the De Smet Event and Wellness Center.

As the COVID pandemic continues, so does the need for blood and convalescent plasma (CCP) in local hospitals.

LifeServe is asking for the public's help to spread the word, and for people who have recovered from COVID to step up and donate.

You can schedule your appointment at the upcoming De Smet blood drive by visiting www.lifesevebloodcenter.org or by calling (800) 287-4903.

One-act play fares well

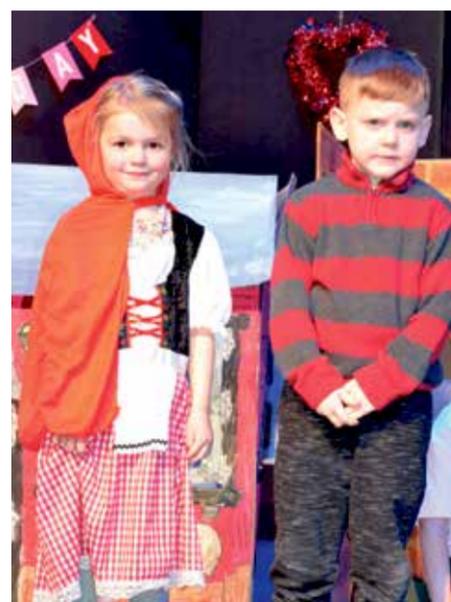

The one-act play team, under the direction of Jennifer Rudebusch and assistant April Rusche, competed in the state Class B competition held Feb. 5-6 in Brookings.

The actors presented "Good Masters! Sweet Ladies! Voices from a Medieval Village" by playwright Laura Amy Schlitz.

Each student in the small cast was part of the ensemble as well as taking on two or more parts. Cast members include Willem Lim, Aria Gruenhagen, Sam Gigov, Leah Millman, Carly Wiese and Matthew Rusche.

De Smet received a superior rating at state, and Aria, Willem and Matthew received individual superior ratings as well.

Lost Little Valentines take the stage

Lexi Johnson and Brittani Wilkinson's kindergarten classes presented the musical play "Lost Little Valentines" for their families Feb. 11 at the De Smet Event & Wellness Center.

In the story, two lost valentines go in search of a home, asking various nursery rhyme characters if they can live with them. None of the characters have room in their houses, but they finally find a place that has room for everyone—the school.

Characters included Brinley Wilkinson and Tyler Albrecht as the Valentines; Bo Luethmers, Wyatt Peckenpaugh and Colt Wipf as the three bears and Brylee Hunt as Goldilocks; Michael Dylla and Logan Springer as the little pigs and Jaden Hojer as the wolf; Blakely Wendling as Red Riding Hood and Kylan Botkin as Red's father; Kadence Wilkinson as Bo Peep and Riley Albrecht and Beau Harty as the sheep, Madison Collier as Ms. Mary and Aspen Aughenbaugh as the bunny; Harlan Koistinen, Colt Efraimson and Slade Vaughn as the three Billy Goats Gruff and Hunter Poe as the Troll; and Elizabeth Griffith and Maija Lee as the teachers

Pageant board to encourage visitors to make it a weekend

BY DONNA PALMLUND
Kingsbury Journal

At the Feb. 10 De Smet City Council meeting, Kristy Hubbard spoke on behalf of the Laura Ingalls Wilder pageant board. She said the board is planning on doing some extra things to promote the 50th anniversary of the LIW pageant.

"We are going to try to encourage people to come to town and spend the entire weekend," she said.

Hubbard said the board has a lot of ideas for special events during the three pageant weekends, including the possibility of hosting one weekend for authors, one for artists and another for actors. She said she is going to try to get some sponsorships.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, COUNCIL:

- Approved real estate tax abatements for the lots where the new daycare will be located and the Kingsbury Journal newspaper office building. The properties were acquired last year by the De Smet Development Corporation, and the corporation is considered not-for-profit. Both properties had been purchased after the time frame had passed for the board to submit the abatement request.

- Council also discussed asking Kingsbury County Director of Equalization Tammy Anderson to attend the city's equalization meeting March 15. This meeting is the time to hear from people wishing to appeal their tax assessments. Depending on the number of appeals, the meetings could go on through March 19, but City Finance Officer Tracey Larson said they typically get through them in one evening.

- Voted to continue Resolution 2020-1 for the COVID-19 virus for another month. This three-page resolution outlines ways to protect the health of the community and can be found in its entirety on the city of De Smet website.

- Approved renewal of the lease agreement with De Smet Emergency Rescue Unit, Inc.

- Held an executive session to discuss contract negotiations and personnel.

- Had the second reading to amend zoning ordinances so single-family residences would include duplexes and townhomes.

- Approved a request for a one-time bill adjustment for a resident who had a water leak. Larson explained that they look at the customer's average water usage compared to the month the leak occurred, and the city and customer split the cost of the estimated loss.

- Approved hiring Jason Springer as building/parks superintendent and will advertise for the street assistant position as well as summer helper, lifeguards and coaches.

- Approved pay requests of $1,226.70 to Helms and Associates for the Turnarounds project; $1,614.50 to Clark Engineering/IMEG for the water-looping project and $5,650 to Meierhenry Sargent LLP, a Sioux Falls law firm.

The next regular city council meeting is scheduled at 5 p.m. March 10 at the De Smet Event & Wellness Center. Government meetings, with the exception of executive sessions, are open to the public. People can also attend meetings virtually via Zoom, but some discussion is difficult to hear clearly. Zoom log-in information can be found on the city of De Smet's webpage.

DAYS GONE BY

1971: Dogs kill over sixty lambs in a barn

10 YEARS AGO

February 16, 2011

De Smet High School actors, under the direction of Jennifer Dobson, came away with a multitude of awards at the state one-act play contest held Feb. 3-5 at the performing arts center in Brookings. They received a superior award for their play, "Us and Them." Nathan Mann, Haley Hubbard and David Reynhout all received a superior rating for individual performances, and each of the three ensemble groups also received a superior rating. They included Megan Schipper and Ramona Huntimer for percussion.

25 YEARS AGO

February 14, 1996

Chris Gilligan won his weight division in the Region 1B Tournament Feb. 10 in Webster. He wrestles Saturday in the state tournament in Aberdeen. Gilligan also wrestled in the state tournament last year. He placed fourth in the region last year.

De Smet kindergarten teacher, Kathy Aughenbaugh, Feb. 7 took her class to the Laura Ingalls Wilder Pageant grounds to enjoy horse-drawn bobsled rides in celebration of Laura Ingalls Wilder's 129th birthday. Temperatures that day climbed into the 30s, making for a pleasant ride.

50 YEARS AGO

February 18, 1971

Ralph Brodersen, De Smet, reported dogs killed over 60 of his lambs at the farm he has rented just north of the Peavey-AlfaCon plant. Several of the lambs, which weighed near the 100-pound mark, suffocated as the dogs chased them in a corner of the barn. Brodersen reports 55 head killed were ready for market.

James Moore has sold his De Smet Livestock operation, leasing the sale barn and its facilities to Harley

McFerran, who resides at Hazel, and who has been operating an auction business at Willow Lake. The new operator will take charge March 1. Mr. and Mrs. Moore have no plans to announce, expecting to continue their residence in De Smet.

75 YEARS AGO

February 14, 1946

The annual Dad-Lad banquet that has been sponsored for years by the local American Legion post, served by the Auxiliary, will be held for the first time at the De Smet auditorium this year, the date Friday, Washington's birthday. The auditorium will allow an increased attendance over past years. Held at various places, the demand for tickets has exceeded the capacity in recent years.

Floyd Abrahamson was in De Smet yesterday looking for a location in which to resume his jewelry repair shop, suspended by his entry into service.

The City bakery closed its door Saturday night to suspend business until it opens in its new location, the former Brewer building. The change has been planned for some time, awaiting only the arrival of a new oven. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gutormson will make improvements in their building before opening in several weeks.

105 YEARS AGO

February 11, 1916

This week will see the removal of one of the landmarks of De Smet. We refer to the Baptist church building on Third Street and Third Avenue. The building has been purchased by H.O. Fritzel and will be torn down. The church was built in 1884, the contractor being Wilkin & Sasse. The contractor price was $1,650, aside from the furniture. It was dedicated Sept. 14, 1884, the first pastor being G.N. Annes. Owing to the removals from the community of many Baptist families, the church was disbanded a few years ago, and the property was purchased by Mrs. H.M. Shearer. Later, the school board acquired the lots and now Mr. Fritzel the building.

SENIOR FEATURE: CARLY WIESE

'It's okay to not be perfect. No one really is'

Carly Wiese is a member of the De Smet High School class of 2021. Her parents are mother, Regina Wiese; father, Michael Wiese; and step-mom, Audrey Saylor. She has an older sister, Michelle Wiese.

Her favorite class at DHS is art. A favorite experience is attending the state one-act play competition and learning the call and response yells while waiting for results.

Someone who has influenced her were foreign exchange students Julika and Beer.

"They helped show that the world is so much bigger than the U.S., and even if they are from seemingly worlds away, we still have similar experiences," Wiese said.

"Yes, good grades are important, but you can't put them above your personal well-being," is the advice she gives underclassmen. "It's okay to not be perfect. No one really is."

Activities Wiese has been involved in at DHS include cross country, oral interpretation, one-act play, all-school play, Dungeons and Dragons, art-drawing and painting, reading and playing clarinet and bass clarinet.

Her future plans include attending Dakota State University in Madison to study computer science.

The second reading of the 2021-2022 school calendar was read. Felderman noted there was a change from the first reading due to the regional professional development day being moved from February 11th to the 18th, and President's day from the 14th to the 21st. Discussion was held on having a week long spring break instead of the March Fridays off. Board consensus was to keep it the same this year.

conjunction with members of the student council. Much discussion followed including inquiring if the cell phones are ever used for educational purposes. Another question that was brought up was restricting use during lunchtime to encourage students to eat their lunch instead of using their phones. Felderman reviewed four board policy updates including admission of resident students, equal opportunity employment, student alternative instruction, and executive sessions. Superintendent Felderman gave his annual transportation update which included fleet mileage and hours of equipment usage. He reported that the mini bus is getting the most amount of use with being able to use it for routes and activities. He sees the need for purchasing another mini bus next year with a large bus for routes in a year or two. Felderman also reviewed quotes he obtained for playground blacktop, stage curtains for, tuck-pointing, and LED lighting. The LED lighting rebate has recently increased to cover approximately sixty percent of the costs. The board also discussed obtaining bids for demolition and replacement of the north storage building.

Felderman reviewed the ESSER II Funding along with the one-time funds South Dakota is giving to the district. He also requested that the board on making three changes to the starting well plan: allowing homemade snacks into the classroom, allowing students to sit across from each other in the lunchroom, and specials to be held outside the classroom.

Principal Bothun reported on NWEA testing and staff development. Felderman reported that Hamlin has included the district in a baseball cooperative along with DeSmet. KINGSBURY KNIGHTS

Knights finish regular season with 14-3 duals record

BY FRANK CRISLER
Arlington Sun

The Kingsbury County Knights went 6-1 in seven duals last week, winning the Clear Lake quad last Tuesday 3-0, and placing second to Parker in Tri-Valley Friday, going 3-1.

That ended the regular season for the Knights, who finished with a 14-3 record in duals this season. Despite that success, Kingsbury didn't quite make it to the eight-team State duals tourney this year, finishing 10th in the state.

CLEAR LAKE QUAD

The Kingsbury Knights beat Clark/Willow Lake 54-22, beat Webster Area 60-18 and beat Deuel 66-3 to win the Clear Lake quad last Tuesday.

Kingsbury, 54

Clark/Willow Lake, 22

The Knights' closest match of the night came against the Clark/Willow Lake Cyclones, but Kingsbury's superior depth allowed the Knights to win easily, 54-22.

De Smet eighth-grader Gannon Gilligan, ranked eighth in the state, turned in a solid 7-0 minor decision at 106 over ninth-ranked C/WL eighth-grader Joshua Kannegieter to get the dual started at 3-0.

Gilligan's classmate, Kaleb Johnson, made it 9-0 with a 19-second pin of freshman Matthew Batchelor at 113, but the Cyclones narrowed the lead to 9-6 after second-ranked C/WL junior Gunnar Kvistad pinned seventh-grader Blake Jennings in 32 seconds at 120.

The Cyclones were open at 126, giving De Smet sophomore Ethan Johnson a win, and at 132, Arlington junior Caleb Clark took a 7-0 minor over eighth-grader Elliot Bratland to put Kingsbury up 18-6.

Eighth-ranked De Smet senior Alec Dobson pinned junior Ethan Mcelhone in 1:41 at 138 to make it 24-6, and Arlington junior Luke Steffensen pinned senior Kyren Castle in 2:29 at 145 for 30-6.

12th-ranked Arlington senior Matthew Steffensen followed up by pinning sophomore Braeden Johnson in 1:16 at 152 for 36-6, then De Smet freshman Connor Johnson won by forfeit at 160.

Down 42-6, the Cyclones got back on the board at 170, as eighth-ranked

C/WL junior Lucas Kannegieter won a 12-0 major over De Smet sophomore Griffin Clubb, then closed to 42-16 with a forfeit at 182 to third-ranked C/WL junior Gage Burke.

Arlington senior Nate Kersting, 12th-ranked at 182, went up to 195 and pinned seventh-grader Jerome Enboden in 59 seconds; then 11th-ranked De Smet senior Kain Gilligan won by forfeit at 220.

Kingsbury was open at 285, making the final score 54-22.

Kingsbury County, 60
Webster Area, 18

There were only six contested weight classes in the Webster dual with each team taking three, but again the Knights' depth prevailed, 60-18.

Gannon Gilligan opened with a forfeit at 106 and Kaleb Johnson did the same at 113 for a quick 12-0 lead. Webster eighth-grader Trace Shoemaker pinned Blake Jennings in 44 seconds at 120, but Kingsbury's Ethan Johnson answered by pinning senior Aaron Neugebauer in 2:22 at 126 to make it 18-6.

The Bearcats again closed the gap as fifth-ranked junior Cael Larson pinned Caleb Clark in 2:39 at 132, but Kingsbury's Dobson matched that six by pinning sophomore Matt Mork in 57 seconds at 138, making it 24-12.

Again, Webster responded, with fifth-ranked senior Andrew Johnson pinning Matthew Steffensen in 3:52 to close the gap to 24-18. But the Bearcats were almost out of wrestlers.

Luke Steffensen at 152, Connor Johnson at 160, Clubb at 170, Kersting at 182 and De Smet sophomore Cael Schoenfelder at 195 each won by forfeit, pushing Kingsbury's lead to 54-18.

Both teams were open at 220, with Kain Gilligan going up to 285 and pinning senior Lane Stern in 1:58 to make the final score 60-18.

Kingsbury County, 66, Deuel, 3

There were also six contested classes in the Deuel dual, but Kingsbury won five to win the match 66-3.

The dual opened at 152, with Luke Steffensen pinning freshman Brian Blachford in 2:33 to get the Knights started. Connor Johnson won by forfeit at 160, and Clubb pinned sophomore Dominic Constant in 4:19 at 170 to push the lead to 18-0.

Both teams were open at 182, with Kersting going up to 195 and pinning sophomore Justin Granum in 1:09 for a 24-0 lead. Kain Gilligan won by forfeit at 220, and both were open at 285.

Gannon Gilligan made it 36-0 by pinning seventh-grader Hayden Landmark in 1:38 at 106, but 11th-ranked Deuel freshman Jaxon Quail got the Cardinals on the board at 113 with a 5-0 minor over Kaleb Johnson, making it 36-3.

Jennings at 120, Ethan Johnson at 126 and Caleb Clark at 132 each won by forfeit, making it 54-3; then Dobson pinned sophomore Tucker Adkins in 3:12 at 138 for 60-3. Matthew Steffensen won by forfeit at 145 to make the final score 66-3.

TRI-VALLEY FIVE

The Kingsbury Knights went 3-1 in a five-team duals tourney in Colton Friday, beating Flandreau 45-21, Garretson 60-24 and Tri-Valley 48-27, but losing a close one to Parker, 35-33.

Kingsbury County, 45, Flandreau, 21
The Kingsbury Knights won five of nine contested weights to beat the Flandreau Fliers 45-21.

Gannon Gilligan got the Knights started with a 6-0 minor decision over freshman Brayden Wiese at 106, but the Fliers answered with an 8-6 minor by freshman Dylan Christensen over Kaleb Johnson at 113 and an 8-2 minor by seventh-grader Justin Klein over Blake Jennings at 120 to take a 6-3 lead.

Third-ranked De Smet sophomore Dylan Zell regained the lead by a forfeit at 126, and Caleb Clark added another at 132. Alec Dobson pinned Flandreau eighth-grader Karter Headrick in 1:14 at 138 for another six, then Matthew Steffensen made it 27-6 by pinning junior Tanner Christensen in 5:42 at 145.

11th-ranked Flandreau junior Tathan Headrick closed the gap to 27-12 by pinning Luke Steffensen in 3:37 at 152, but Connor Johnson answered by pinning sophomore Gary Moose in 2:31 at 160 for 33-12.

Kolby Peters, a Flandreau sophomore, took a 7-4 minor over Griffin Clubb at 170, but Kingsbury's Nate Kersting pinned sophomore Caleb Pitsenberger in 3:09 at 182 to push the lead to 39-15.

Both teams were open at 195, Kain Gilligan won by forfeit at 220, and the Knights were open at 285 to make the final score 45-21.

Kingsbury County, 60, Garretson, 24
The Knights won six of eight contested weights to beat Garretson, 60-24.

Gannon Gilligan at 106 and Kaleb Johnson at 113 each won by forfeit, before Garretson sophomore Preston Bohl pinned Blake Jennings in 1:31 at 120 to make it 12-6.

Zell faced 12th-ranked Garretson junior Jayse Miller at 126, and pinned him in 2:23 to make it 18-6, but at 130, Garretson junior Raxten Rozeboom pinned Kingsbury's Clark in 3:16 to counter.

Dobson started a 36-point run by the Knights by pinning senior Trevon Cross in 3:09 at 138, with Matthew Steffensen following at 145, pinning junior Taysen Swatek in 4:24.

Luke Steffensen pinned freshman Carsten Rozeboom in 1:57 at 152; Connor Johnson pinned junior Adam Hulscher in 1:30 at 160, and Clubb at 170 and Kersting at 182 each won by forfeit, pushing the lead to 54-12.

Kingsbury was open at 195, and Kain Gilligan pinned sophomore Jaden Richter in 2:39 at 220. The Knights were also open at 285, making the final score 60-24.

Kingsbury County, 48
Tri-Valley Mustangs, 27

The Kingsbury Knights and Tri-Valley Mustangs had a fairly competitive dual, with Kingsbury winning five of eight contested weights.

Gannon Gilligan at 106 and Kaleb Johnson at 113 again each won by forfeit, and Jennings was pinned in 34 seconds at 120 by 10th-ranked seventh-grader Brody Dybvig, making it 12-6.

Zell pinned sophomore Lawson Loiseau in 37 seconds at 126, but Tri-Valley seventh-grader Landon Reiser won a 6-2 minor over Clark at 132 to cut the lead to 18-9.

At 138, Dobson faced 10th-ranked senior Porter Jensen, and pinned the Mustang in 1:31. Matthew Steffensen followed up at 145 by pinning junior Zach Powell in 41 seconds for a 30-9 lead, but Tri-Valley got six back at 152, as freshman Tyler Gronewold pinned Luke Steffensen in 1:43.

Up 30-15, Kingsbury put the match away with the next 18 points. Connor Johnson pinned Javier Mendoza in 1:09 at 160, Clubb won by forfeit at 170, and Kersting pinned freshman Isaac Nehlich in 2:25 at 182 for a 48-15 lead.

The Knights were open at 195, Kain Gilligan was pinned in 2:53 by fourth-ranked senior Ethan Nehlich at 220, and both teams were open at 285, making the finals score 48-27.

Kingsbury County, 33
Parker Pheasants, 35

The Knights took one loss at the Tri-Valley tourney, dropping a 35-33 decision as forfeits at 195 and 285 cost the Knights the win.

The dual opened at 132, with Caleb Clark going the distance but losing a 15-1 major decision to 11th-ranked freshman Andrew Even. That put Parker up 4-0, but Dobson pinned freshman Connor Even in 1:19 at 138 to put Kingsbury up 6-4.

The Steffensen brothers swapped weight classes and each came close, but Luke Steffensen lost a 4-0 minor to senior Zanto Centeno at 145 and Matthew Steffensen lost a 3-2 minor to sophomore Jack Even at 152.

Parker was up 10-6, but Connor Johnson made it 10-9 with a wild 12-11 minor over freshman Jake Stone at 160, and Clubb put the Knights up 15-10 by pinning sophomore Logan Bridges in 39 seconds at 170.

Parker sophomore Charlie Patten, fourth-ranked at 195, came down to 182 and won a 9-0 major over Kersting, closing the gap to 15-14, and Kingsbury was open at 195, swinging the lead back to the Pheasants, 20-15.

At 220, Kain Gilligan came through by pinning freshman Levi Wieman in 5:58 for six points, but the Knights were open at 285, handing back those six.

That put Parker up 26-21, cycling back to the lighter weights.

At 106, Gannon Gilligan reclaimed a lead for the Knights by pinning eighth-grader Alex Kuchta in 2:40, but a 4-0 minor by seventh-grader Riley Pankratz over Kaleb Johnson at 113 put the Pheasants back up, 29-27.

At 120, Michael Even pinned Jennings in 2:59 to stretch the lead to eight at 35-27, which put the match just out of reach. Zell did what he could, pinning freshman Quinlan Olesen in 49 seconds, but Parker won a close one, 35-33.

DE SMET VS WOLSEY-WESSINGTON

The 16-1 top rated De Smet Bulldogs won their 11th straight game of the season on Thursday night, Feb. 11, at Wolsey by a score of 56-42.

Traditionally, when the Bulldogs and the Warbirds meet, it gets very physical, and this game was exactly that. Both teams played man to man defense, and at times, the game got quite intense. De Smet led at every quarter stop but maintained just a two-point lead with three minutes remaining in the game.

The Bulldogs had a balanced scoring attack with Kalen Garry leading the way with 19 points, while Rett Osthus and Cody Cavanaugh each had 10 points, and Ethan McCune added seven.

De Smet out-rebounded Wolsey-Wessington 32-22 with Tory Holland leading that category with nine boards. He was followed by Garry with seven, and Osthus and Damon Wilkinson each had six.

The Dogs outshot the Warbirds from the field 46% - 38%.

"Good win on the road in a very physical game," said Coach Jeff Gruenhagen. "We rebounded better in the second half but still had some defensive breakdowns that led to easy baskets by Wolsey."

DE SMET VS WHITE RIVER

The De Smet Bulldogs boys basketball team defeated White River on Saturday night, Feb. 13, at the DWU/ Culver's Classic in Mitchell by a score of 76-63. It was billed as the best Class B team from the east vs. the best from the west.

over Class A schools Winner and Stanley County and had upset on their minds when they met the 17-1 Bulldogs. De Smet never gave them a chance of accomplishing that as they jumped out to an early double-digit lead and never looked back much to the delight of Coach Jeff Gruenhagen.

"Great game tonight from the guys," quoted Gruenhagen.

The Bulldogs' largest lead was eighteen points with 5:58 remaining in the fourth quarter.

Kalen Garry had his usual outstanding game scoring 36 points and gathering 12 rebounds for which he was awarded the MVP trophy. Ethan McCune had 12 points and Cody Cavanaugh added 10. Tory Holland, who was again given credit for outstanding hustle by his coach, scored nine points and grabbed 10 rebounds.

"Rett Osthus did a great job defensively, and we again rebounded well as a team," said Gruenhagen.

The Dogs out-rebounded the Tigers 32-15.

De Smet wraps up their regular season Saturday night, Feb. 20 at the Dog Pound against ORR.

DE SMET VS FLANDREAU

The Lady Bulldogs traveled to Flandreau on Tues., Feb 9. The Fliers demonstrated a wide array of offensive attacks that night. They had threats from outside and were also quick to drive the lane and draw the foul, which resulted in some Lady Bulldogs in foul trouble the first half. De Smet was able to make some big stops defensively and come back down, working the ball in the lane for a few baskets.

The Fliers came out aggressively the second half, and De Smet wasn't able to get much going right away. The Lady Bulldogs were able to shut down one of Flandreau's main players, making them work hard for their points, but De Smet still came up short offensively.

Kennadi Buchholz led the Bulldog effort with 20 points and 10 rebounds, while Mackenzie Zell contributed 19 points and 10 rebounds.

Flandreau was led by Bella Pavlis with 15 points.

The Lady Bulldogs JV lost 19-40.

DE SMET VS HOWARD

In their fourth game for the week, De Smet hosted the Howard Tigers on Saturday afternoon, Feb. 13. The Lady Bulldogs did an excellent job defensively against a good Tiger basketball post players and hold them to single digits on the board. The Tigers fought back on both ends of the court to keep this game going back and forth. The Lady Bulldogs did a great job of working the ball around and taking some time to look for the open shot.

It was tremendous teamwork by De Smet offensively, achieving a 22-point run in the fourth quarter to put seven players on the board for the game. Defensively, they only allowed the Tigers eight points during that quarter.

Along with a great win for Lady Bulldogs basketball, during the fourth quarter, junior Kennadi Buchholz was fouled and sent to the line for two free throws. After making the first free throw, she was recognized for her 1000th career point. Congratulations, Kennadi!

The Lady Bulldogs were led by Buchholz with 21 points and 12 rebounds. Howard was led by Kenedy Koepsell with 11 points.

The Lady Bulldogs JV won 43-39 in an exciting game as well.

Tuesday night, Feb. 9, 62-53. A cold shooting performance by the Bulldogs kept the score close in the last three quarters. The Dogs had built a 19-6 lead after one quarter.

Flandreau's size and strength inside caused the Dogs to alter a lot of their shots in the paint, and they had to depend on their long-range shooting. De Smet shot only 34% from the field for the game, 31% from the three-point range.

With the game being very physical, Flandreau sent De Smet to the free throw line often, and that proved to be the difference. De Smet made 23 of 29 free throws compared to Flandreau's 9 of 12 from the stripe. Cody Cavanaugh and Tory Holland hit clutch free throws in the last two minutes of the game to ice the win. Rett Osthus also had two huge three-point baskets during that two-minute stretch.

Kalen Garry led the Bulldogs with 21 points and 11 rebounds. He was 11 for 12 from the free throw line. Tory Holland had a huge night as he scored 15 points, 6 for 7 from the line and showed amazing hustle for loose balls and steals. Osthus added 10 points and Cavanaugh nine. Ethan McCune grabbed nine re-
